

Rivercity Technology Services Microsoft O365 Backup Solution

Microsoft 365 is Not Automatically Protected

As organizations increasingly move data into cloud-based applications, many believe that traditional best practices such as data backup are outdated. After all, there are many applications readily available, accessible from anywhere, and highly redundant, so why is backup necessary?

An astonishing 1 in 3 companies report losing data stored in cloud-based applications. The single leading cause of this data loss? End-user error. Other common culprits include:

- Malware or ransomware attacks
- Malicious end-user activity
- Accidental deletion or data overwrites
- Canceled account subscriptions
- External app errors (data corruption via syncing or overwriting)

With more and more companies depending on Microsoft 365 for collaboration and business operations, these risks are impossible to ignore. Backup is just as important in the cloud as it is in traditional, on-premises IT systems.

An independent, third-party, backup such as RCT's O365 Backup Solution is the best way to protect your organization against the most common data loss pitfalls.

With RCT's O365 Backup Solution, your data is protected with a reliable, robust solution designed to reduce risk and time needed to manage backups.
